Cumberland murder suspect sentenced to 110 years

Co-defendant to serve executed sentence in Indiana Dept. of Correction

(Indianapolis, Ind.) -- Marion County Prosecutor Terry Curry announced that Jeremy Priel was sentenced today to 110-years for his involvement in the December 2011 murders of 7-year-old Kyleigh Crane and her uncle Jeremy Crane in Cumberland. Priel pleaded guilty as charged to two counts of Murder in June. Each count brings a 55-year sentence to be served consecutively.

Priel is one of two suspects charged in the murders. Co-defendant Michael Bell pleaded guilty in April to two counts of Murder and is expected to be sentenced to 100 years at a sentencing hearing on August 9.

A charge of a crime is merely an accusation, and the defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.
